Don't Forget Intelligence
He Had Ambition
Boulers' Blood, Etc.
Buying Autographs

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE
T HE U. S. IS NO life save in progress. Wise chemists gathered at Virginia say it and abundant and chemical agency are important factors of life.

It may be true, and still you need the chemical concept of the development of life.

Ants or another world machine is unknown. Only an automobile supplies gas and electricity and running water says, "No life in this material goes from gas and electricity all of that automobile."

Will overlook just one little detail, the INTELLIGENCE of the gas, electricity and steel mounted them on pneumatic tires with life. Explain it as you like, but don't forget the INTELLIGENCE back of it.

WE ARE PROUD of our natural beauty and high wages. Bleeding is even prouder of the prospect of high wages. This is shown by Mr. Klein, an investigator. One young syndicate could afford to pay $10,000,000 and to pay men on a running crew $50 a night, a good deal less than eight hours. One man tells how he used to make $30 to $37 a week, but I don't know, "now he's so they put him on a runner, and I got $50 a night." He said on the "converted" ship SC-217. Uncle Sam thus signs the running boat at long last. There is nothing like ambition.

A DOZEN lawyers, a judge, and experts are fighting for possession of the will of Joseph Stanley. They don't know about Stanley, but Burton Gwin, who signed the will as witness, also signed the Declaration of Independence. His signatures are worth $100,000.

COLLECTING autographs is an interesting survival of fashion, a new instinct going back thousands of years, to odds and ends that the antique man carries in his wife bag, the strange ingredients that Shakespeare makes the witches put into their broths, the finger of a babe born at twelve, the toe of a frog, lizards, etc. In the same spirit, although I don't know it, men collect autographs, feeling that something magical lies to them. A man might pay $10,000 for the original manuscript of Milton's "Paradise Lost" that would not read the poem through if you paid him $100,000 for the reading.

MR. GIBSON, who represents us in the League of Nations where we have no business, tells European powers that this country would never allow the League to control our armaments. Satellites as far as it goes. Why can't we let the League attend to its affairs while we attend to ours?

When the total population of the United States was less than half the population of today's New York City, we managed our own affairs without Europe's help. Why should it be impossible for 150,000,000 Americans to do the same?

NEW YORK STATE easily sells bonds to yield interest of only 6%.

New York City alone has a debt larger than the whole debt of the United States before the war.

WHAT a state, city or nation should year in not debt, but unlike us, may not get in exchange for bonds. Instead of spending our twenty-one dollars to buy dubious securities, we might well spend the same amount of millions making the country more comfortable and prosperous. We might even build an air fleet to see SOMEBODY some fine day from going over and getting twenty-one more without "your leave."

A NEGRO, applying for admission to a government training camp, is in the war department that refuses to admit him. Refuses to say colored men must enlist in colored regiments. Camps for colored young men will be established, but they will not solve the problem.

However, if Whites have the right to be in what regiments and camps, young men may enroll. It would be fair to let the colored young men in what particular units could be enrolled.

Louisiana City Hopes To Avoid Inundation with Break in Levee

Washington, April 28.—The disastrous Mississippi floods probably will result in the administration presenting to the new congress in December an ambitious and far-reaching system of flood prevention, it was forecast here today in official circles.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon said he believed it would be possible to work out a program based upon prevention of spring floods and the development of hydroelectric power plants in the Mississippi, Ohio and Missouri River valleys that will be of inestimable value to the nation.

New Orleans, April 28.—Renewed hope that further disaster might be avoided came to hundreds of thousands in Louisiana today as the crest of the Mississippi flood reached Vicksburg 400 miles above New Orleans.

Army engineers who are directing upwards of 50,000 men engaged in

FIVE NEW DEATHS IN LEVEE BREAK

Pine Bluff, Ark., April 27.—Five new deaths from floods from a break in the Arkansas River near Pine Bluff, Ark., were reported to date.

None of the five bodies has been identified. The bodies of three negroes and two white men were found near Pine Bluff, Ark. by rescue workers.

Horde struggle to keep the river within threatened levees along its lower reaches. Believe that burring heavy rains within the next three days, the last and most critical phase of the devastating flood may pass the city and spend itself through the artificial levee to be opened tomorrow at Poydras, 10 miles south of here.

The most threatening situation today was at Angola, La., opposite the mouth of the Red River where the supreme effort of the defenders of New Orleans is being made to save the weakening levees.

Fear Angola Break

A break at Angola would unleash the Mississippi River in an unmeasured stretch of Louisiana flats. Twelve thousand men organized in military units are employed in strengthening the levees, repairing wave washes and putting low stretches near Angola. Large barges are concentrated in the Greenville, Miss., April 28.—Armed with orders to "shoot to kill if necessary" national guardsmen here are enforcing a strict curfew over this water-locked city to end looting.

More than 7,000,000 bags of sand already have been placed in position along some 23 miles of dyke and millions of feet of lumber have been used in reinforcing walls.

"There is reason to be hopeful," said Maj. W. H. Holcombe, in charge of levee operations south of Vicksburg.

There is still possibility of breaks in the line above New Orleans where in some spots the levees are not quite so strong as those protecting New Orleans, but every hour that passes brightens the prospect that the weakest point may hold.

Red River Rising

The Red River is rising between Shreveport and Alexandria, La., but the army engineers anticipate this swell will reach the Mississippi right or 10 hours before the crest of the upper valley flood.

State engineers made final preparations today for the blasting of the levee.

285 IS CONTRIBUTED TO FLOOD RELIEF FUND

$216 Deposited with Local Banks: U. S. Red Cross Total, $3,085,600

Collections being made by Marion County Chapter of the Red Cross for Mississippi River flood relief fund totalled $285 at noon today. Miss Mina Dougherty, secretary of the chapter, reported.

Of this amount $216 was contributed by the local banks and the balance was made up of funds sent direct to the Red Cross office. The Red Cross has received reports of a number of other contributions from this city having been made in response to radio appeals, Miss Dougherty says.

The first donation received from outside the city came today from the Progressive Farm Women's Club, its secretary, Mrs. H. A. Holland, sending a check for $10. The sum of $2 was turned in by Room No. 2 at Central Junior High.

Several responses have also been received to the appeal for clothing and other supplies, Miss Dougherty states. The American Express Co. has announced that it will carry all such material into the flood districts free of charge.

ACTOR KILLED

Film Cowboy Shot; Wife Charged With Crime

Los Angeles, April 28.—Gin and jealousy. This combination together with a convenient automatic, according to police, resulted in the death of Tom Kerrick, 32, film cowboy. His wife, Sarah, occupied a jail cell today, charged with shooting her husband—the climax of a gay party in Kerrick's Hollywood home.

Four other persons all motion picture "extras" are held as material witnesses.

The county grand jury will sift the facts in the case when it meets today. So far questioning has produced nothing but a mass of conflicting stories.

Police said all those quizzed were so intoxicated no coherent story of the shooting could be obtained.

POLA PLANNING

Paris, April 28.—Pola Negri has decided upon the style of her wedding gown but she hasn't decided upon the date of her wedding.

Pola stated today that she and her fiancé Prince Milivani have not yet agreed on what form of a marriage ceremony they shall accept, as there is a difference in their religions.

"I know it would displease mother if I should marry outside of my religion," said Pola. "On the other hand the prince's father would object strongly if he gave up his religion."

Pola has decided that her Louis XVI chateau, where the wedding will take place,

JUNE 15 SET ASIDE AS DAIRY DAY IN COUNTY

Local Holstein Association Holds Meeting at Farm Agent's Office

Arrangements for a special "dairy day" program to be given in Marion on some farm meeting June 15 were made last night at a meeting of the Marion County Holstein Association held at the county farm agent's office.

A feature of the event will be a presentation of the prize bull which was awarded to Marion County seven months ago in connection with a special dairy cattle train operated over the route of the Erie railroad. The purpose of running the train was to promote improvement of dairy stock along the route. A prize bull was offered to the county which had the largest attendance at points where the train stopped and Marion County won. The bull is to be presented to some farm owner at the meeting here June 15, the plan of presentation to be announced later.

Yesterdays O. L. Blackman of the O. S. U. College of Agriculture, T. M. Palmer, agricultural agent of the Erie Railroad, T. P. Halle, secretary of the Ohio Holstein Freeman Association and Floyd Barlow, secretary of the Erie County Holstein Association, came here yesterday and visited farms to inspect eight bulls which Marion County farmers purchased at the time the Erie special stopped here. The plan is to have an annual inspection of the bulls for three years to instruct the owners regarding the best methods of care and management.

A committee is now at work seeking a man of this caliber and hopes to report satisfactory results in the near future. Red Cross officials and other leaders of the movement believe it will be possible to find some representative of the required qualifications who will consent to render this service to the community.

The meeting last night was called following arrival here yesterday of Mrs. Julia Drower of Cleveland, field repres-

The stolen canvases are a portrait of Christ by Rembrandt; a picture called, "This Is the Man"; a Vittore Pisano entitled, "Assumption by Christ"; and Carlo Dolci's "John the Baptist."

The Rembrandt canvas was badly mutilated, the figure being cut out from the background. The others had been lifted from their frames with extreme care.

ODD FELLOWS OBSERVE 108TH ANNIVERSARY

Marion County Association Celebrates Founding of Order with Program

"Friendship is the big word of Odd Fellowship," declared Rev. J. C. Wynn, pastor of the Harpster M. E. Church, in his address on "The Foundation of Odd Fellowship," at the meeting held in celebration of the 108th anniversary of the founding of the organization last night in the L. O. O. F. Hall, Main-st, under the auspices of the Marion County Odd Fellows Association. The pageant, "Friendship, Love and Truth," written and directed by Mrs. C. H. Rinchart, concluded the program.

About 250 members of the various lodges in the county and neighboring towns and friends, attended the celebration which opened with the ode, sung by the audience under the direction of T. E. Bolander, of Wayside Lodge, Marion. The invention was spoken by Rev. Mr. Wynn and H. B. Sims, read proclamations from Ernest W. Bradford, grand sire of the grand lodge, and Samuel N. Young, grand master of the state organization, authorizing the observance of the anniversary and urging a renewal of faith to the principles of Odd Fellowship.

Harpster Quartet

Members of the Harpster L. O. O. F. quartet, composed of Albert Fechter, P. H. Cottrell, V. L. Cottrell and J. C. Cross, entertained with several vocal numbers throughout the program and responded with encores. They were assisted at the piano by Mrs. Anna Wal-

Library Compiles Book List For National Music Week

In observance of National Music Week, May 17, City Library authorities have compiled a list of books of a musical nature obtainable at the library. The list includes musical biographies, histories of music and books on music appreciation. Together with brilliant posters giving lists of the musical books, they will be placed in a conspicuous space at the library for next week.

The list includes biographies, "Modern Composers" and "Women Composers" by Elson; "Famous American Composers" and "Contemporary American Composers," by Hughes; "Beethoven and His Forerunners," "From Greig to Brahms" and "Romantic Composers" by Mason; "Musical Portraits" by Rosenfeld; "Complete Book of the Great Musicians" by Scholz, and "Who's Who in the Theater" by Parker.

Musical histories available at the library are "History of American Music" by Elson; "Studies in Modern Music" by Hadow; "Orchestra and Orchestral Music" by Henderson; "Mezzotints in Modern Music" by Huneker; "Pianoforte and Its Music" by Krebs; "History of Music" by Patti, and the Oxford History of Music in six volumes.

Of the list of books on music appreciation, there are "Music Appreciation" by Hamilton and "How To Listen to Music" by Krebs.

had dreamed, and more than they had hoped, had been realized.

"Today Odd Fellowship endures a world wide empire spreading the spirit of friendliness and fraternity. Friendship is the keystone of Odd Fellowship; friendliness is the foundation of religion; friendship is the teaching of the great Master Odd Fellow, and as long as humanity exists, there will be humanitarian needs that can only be met by the spirit of friendship. We as Odd Fellows must stand solidly and sturdily, with our faces lifted courageously to meet the challenge of our own day, to meet life not only for ourselves but our fellowmen."

Lesson Portrayed

The pageant splendidly portrayed the lesson of Odd Fellowship and exemplified the spirit of the organization in carrying out the predominating principles of friendship, love and truth. The situation of a family in need, where the father did not belong to a fraternal order was contrasted with the situation of a family left the protection of a fraternal organization in the opening scenes, and another presented the response of members of the order to the call for help from travelers. The scene closed with a scene portraying a happy old age, the singing of "The Old Rugged Cross," by Mrs. Lloyd Schiller, Mrs. Edna Rizor and Mrs. Jessie Carpenter, and the pledge to the cross, American flag and fraternal banner. Mrs. Schiller also sang "America," and two odes during the pageant.

Mrs. C. H. Rinchart gave a reading, "Our Motto," and the program concluded with the closing ode by the audience, under the direction of T. E. Bolander.

Arrangements for the program were in charge of a committee composed of H. B. Sims, T. E. Bolander, C. E. Chapman, B. C. Becker and J. T. Johnson. Officers of the organization are David Hale, of Lurie, president; O. T. Pierman, of Morral, vice president, and Leo Patton, of Marion, secretary and treasurer.

ALLEGED SLAYER UNDER ARREST IN CLEVELAND

Police Stage Round-Up of Suspects in "Roaring Third" Precinct

Cleveland, April 25.—John Burbridge, alleged slayer of John Compson Jr., at Coughlin Park, 10 days ago, and several suspects in the killing of Fred Hirsch, 10, Bell Telephone Companyman, during a holdup last Friday night, were under arrest here today following a police roundup of Cleveland's "roaring third" precinct last night.

Police said Burbridge admitted beating Compson with his fist, during a drunken brawl, but denied using his knife.

While the roundup was in progress, Sam Noble, 23, was shot down by unknown assailants in another part of the city, dying early today in St. Alexis Hospital. Detectives say he was the victim of a "feuding war." A brother, Louis Noble, was killed last summer in the same manner.

Transportation of live poultry for the present year is predicted to be 100,000,000 birds.

Business given to the chamber of commerce through Kenton and Marion and will continue for several months in large numbers.

Larger shipments will be reflected in the continued and increased prosperity of the New York Car Co. of Kenton, a subsidiary of the Chicago concern. Mr. Mudd pointed out, as it will affect all cities along the line.

Mr. Mudd, together with officials and directors of the Transit company, held their annual business meeting at Kenton yesterday as guests of the chamber of commerce. This occurs at the beginning of the political year and will decide Kenton's industrial growth.

Last year the tonnage of live poultry, to New York, traveled through Marion, going to New York from Chicago. This year, according to Mr. Mudd, the tonnage will be greater.

The value of the live poultry going from Chicago to New York in 1926 was $2,730,000.

CHURCHES ARE REPRESENTED AT DELAWARE

Local Baptist Delegations Attend Bible School and Convention

The three local Baptist Churches, Trinity, First Memorial and Emmanuel, are well represented at the fourteenth annual Bible School and Young People's Convention being held at the First Baptist Church, Delaware, today and Friday, in conjunction with the quarterly meeting of the Marion Baptist Women's Missionary Society of the Marion Baptist Association.

Marion Woman President

The day's program opened this morning with the meeting of the Women's Missionary Society, over which Mrs. U. S. Davis, wife of Dr. U. S. Davis, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, presided. Mrs. C. H. Day of this city, led the conservation service with a paper on the subject "The Friendly Tree," after which "Our Golden Tree," a prophecy, was read by Mrs. A. J. Tower, also of this city. W. A. Holmes of Granville was heard in an address on the subject "Young People Studying Mission." Mrs. H. J. Hamner of Springdale conducted devotions.

Following the basket luncheon at noon, the afternoon session opened with devotions conducted by Mrs. Harry Manning of West Mansfield. Miss Isabelle Crawford, missionary to the Indians, discussed her experiences as a missionary, after which Miss Nellie Dunham of Granville spoke on the subject "Materials and Methods of Missionary Education for Children."

Rev. Pierre To Speak

Rev. R. W. Pearce of Richwood will give the principal address of the Bible School session tonight, speaking on the subject "Getting Ready for Service." Rev. A. G. Adriance, pastor of First Memorial Baptist Church, will give the Bible Lesson after which Miss Dunham will be heard in an address, "The United Budget." Rev. H. C. Foster of Delaware will give the welcome address. Music will be furnished by the Trinity Orchestra.

Answering the plan of Belmont and the towns in that district, Mrs. C. H. Day, third district engineer, directed the boats to proceed there before noon to day.

Grave danger of a break in the Arkansas River at Pine Bluff was felt today. A thousand of sandbags were enroute to strengthen the weakening point. The water were sand bags to the levee and has threatened to wash away the top of the bank.

Arranging today inside arrangements to send relief to Belmont and neighboring towns. Several boats now operating around Granville will be loaded with food and sent to Belmont before the day is over.

Situation Improving

The situation at Granville, Miss., was reported to be improving.

The ground of water, pointing over the city levee, was gradually growing smaller and those waters were receding.

A small protective levee around the city of Rolling Fork today was all that held outside waters out of the city. This levee was holding back the flood but was in no danger of breaking.

Your "Regular" Pain Now Needless

Menstruation is a perfectly natural process, but the painful part is NEEDLESS. Long study has absolutely conquered menstrual pain. Science now offers women reliable and complete relief—in a simple, utterly harmless tablet called MIDL.

This newest achievement of the laboratory has nothing to do with drastic, habit-forming drugs that kill pain by numbing the whole system! MIDL acts directly on the organs affected by menstruation, and nowhere else. Yet relief and absolute comfort come in five to seven minutes!

So, why have a twinge of pain—feel "low" or even uncomfortable? Or take anything to depress the heart or upset the system? All drug stores have MIDL in a thin aluminum box that tucks in purse or pocket—for 50 cents.

What Has Gone Before
in the home of PROF and MOLIE ELWELL in Camden,
Ind., one night in October, 1934, is brought a woman who had travelled on a train. That night two girls are born to her and she dies without revealing her name.

The story then moves forward 16 years. The twins, now growing to beautiful womanhood, have been christened and named MARGARET and ELIZABETH. They are called JIM and BETTY.

JIM ELWELL, the son, enlists in the World War. He then discovers that one of the twins loves him.

He is shell-shocked at the battle of Sedan and at first is reported dead. Later he is identified in a New York hospital and his mother and father hasten to him to find his memory and speech gone.

Specialists despair of his recovery.

The day before his parents are to take him home, Jim wants to see his nurse, NELLIE DOWNING.

A frantic search is begun. Late that night he is found in Bellevue hospital, unconscious, his skull fractured, expected to die. He was hit by a truck.

The twins are in Indianapolis at the home of their uncle, JOHN CLAYTON, the mystery of their identity having been cleared up while Jim was in France. They make preparations for his homecoming, not knowing of the accident, but when the train pulls in the Elwells are not aboard.

Now Begin the Story

CHAPTER XXXVII

WHY, they didn't come!" Both Rusty and Betty uttered the same truth in the same words,
not a question or supplement to the statement.

"What could have happened?"

Again they spoke in concert and no one answered. The crowd began to disintegrate. The band silently packed its pieces and shuffled off. Harvey

"That's it. I'm afraid, Daily dear," said Margaret with an odd little smile that was wanly pathetic. "We have no reason for thinking that Mollie and Prof really expected us to be here to meet them. In her letter, written more than a week ago, she just named the day they would leave New York and the train they would arrive home on."

Mollie, she added, hadn't asked them to meet the train—hadn't even suggested it. "We wanted it or her to write again but she didn't, so yesterday we decided—or rather, Uncle John told us that is, he—

Rusty had floundered around until she had finally got into a cross current.
She was between the devil and the deep blue sea. She must either lie now, look up or go ahead.

Like the same little girl who was the goat ahead and told their old friend the truth as had been pointed out to them by their uncle. The truth was the more difficult to tell for the very fact that neither Betty nor she had realized it was the truth until Uncle
John had shown them.

With the passing of this came the regulation question again, altered slightly but in purport the same.

"What do you suppose could have happened?"

Marta Dalton began probing among the multitude of possibilities for the most likely one.

"They might have missed their connection in Chicago; they might have missed their train in New York; they might have—or else they didn't start so far, a hundred and one things might have happened."

"Yes," Betty said miserably, "hundred and one things—a thousand and one things. Among them the possibility that something has happened to Jim."

"Oh, Nurse," cried Margaret, "do you suppose—do you think—"

"Now, be quiet, dear. Anything might have happened, of course, but don't you suppose they'd have telegraphed if it had been something serious?" They knew you'd be here expecting them on the seven o'clock train.

Marta twisted her fingers nervously.

Devotee of drama, arriving late,

words in some unintelligible tongue,
inspired with a few painfully articulated English words, were trying to make Jim understand what they wished.

Jim listened attentively—his war service had familiarized him with words in a number of tongues, but he spread his hands in utter disorientation.

"I can't make out a word of their language," he said. "It's something I never heard. Yes, I did, too," his honest face took on a look of sudden quickenings. "May—May—Im viving, but they sound a lot like that stuff the old gink down at the Larches was spouting."

Jim had made the same discovery a second before. He has little familiarity with foreign tongues, even my French is limited, but I have a trained ear and memor. With a sudden thought I spoke decisively to Jim.

"Try them again, Jim. Say 'Slow' to them. Maybe they can get that.
I'll be back. I have to see to something in the house for a minute. Will you stay here, Mrs. Dickey?"

"Will I?" she retorted. "Just watch me! They're going to make that dog before they leave, or I'm going to know the reason why."

Suppressing as well as the absurdity of her demand with no male nearer than the village, three miles away, I sped back to the house, finding Katie,
as I expected, just ready to come out into the yard. Culinary devotion—it would take an earthquake to get Katie out of her kitchen when she is preparing a cake and her oven "just right"—had prevented her joining us before, but I met her just inside the door and drew her back behind the sight of the group in the yard.

"Katie!" I said in my most impressive manner. "I don't think those men out there are just what they should be. They are pretending not to understand English, and I think one of them at least does, and Jim thinks they are talking in the same language as Mr.
Lincoln did."

"Transylvanian?" Katie said with a grin, "sometimes I hope to get out of her reason for this aversion to the language and the country."

"I think so. Now, I want you to wait here for a minute or two. After I've gone. Then I want you to run out to me if you were excited about something and ask me how many we're going to have for dinner, and if we're going to have extra dessert. Then I want you to listen carefully to what the men are saying to Jim—I'll pretend a delay in answering you—but don't let them see for an instant that you understand what they're saying—if you do."

Martha Dalton opened her lips to speak and the twins bounded into the room and interrupted her.

Madge Says a Trap

THE first reaction of any normal person to anything out of the ordinary is one of wariness, until it is explained.

Therefore I checked the turn back toward the kitchen which I already had made when Mrs. Tozer had finished her tirade against the owners of the savage dog and frankly stared at the two queer men who had stayed in our back yard, trying to ascertain what of them had uttered the warning shot in the English tongue, of which both were now pretending almost total ignorance.

But my searching glance brought me no enlightenment. Both men were equally unkempt and unprepossessing, apparently stoold, although the thicker of the talled man's half-closed eyelids seemed to indicate a sense of humor sufficient to appreicate Mrs. Tozer's hostile and angry voice.

"I'm going," she said to him. "To get well soon now."

Jim, Prof told her, was going to Bee.
He's sleeping soundly now and Dr.

"Well, never be able to thank Dr.

Her husband shook his head. "I'm derful people there were in this world until this happened. It makes it better after all for me to live in, doesn't it?"

Shortly afterward, Prof sent another telegram to the girls and John Clayton.
This carried the information that Jim had regained consciousness and had a chance to pull through. He was, however, in the same condition mentally as previous to the accident, as he had not talked. Mollie was recovering rapidly,

Principals Soon Dull
The two—separated by a couple of ink-wells, a water pitcher, a few paper cups and the width of a desk appear dull, lacking sparkle or fighting vigor.

They appear about as romantic as a pair of clams. Not even by the strongest stretch of imagination can one conjure the romantic glamour that must have been theirs once.

As the trial drags on, hickorings between defending counsel, with an occasional clash with the prosecutor, offer the only relief. But even this is punctuated with a mounting cold muter-of-factness.

Counsel's Plan

For with each objection overruled, the Snyder and Gray counsel hope to prepare for an appeal to be taken if the verdict goes against them. Each hopes to contend that his client was robbed of all the due process of law to which he is entitled.

This quick began with the long-drawn out selection of the jury. When Gray's lawyer challenged a juror, agreeable to the Snyder forces, the woman's lawyers were hot on their feet expounding their contention that each of the defendants should be tried separately. "Overruled," piped the judge. "Disposition," echoed the lawyers. And the ground-work for appeal was being laid.

And so it continues—a defense prepared for a new trial in case of an adverse decision. But while the law may allow ample opportunity for stalling, time cannot outlast the heinousness of the crime.

That is why the vast galleries in the courtroom are focusing their main attention on the faces of the two principals.

Writer's Impressions

A SWEEPING SUCCESS —

The NEW Shell Gasoline — 400 "Extra Dry"— has made a hit from the start. And no wonder. It is the gasoline that is different, better in every way—and costs no more than the ordinary kind.

And it is fulfilling every promise that has been made for it. Greater power—the motor indicates it. Quicker response—the gas man proves it. Cleaner burning—the spark plugs show it.

What "400 End Point" means—what "Extra Dry" means—are technical features of interest to the scientific mind. But every motorist, whether or not he understands the importance of these revolutionary changes in gasoline refining, can appreciate the result of these changes in the greatly improved performance of his car.

Today—do as thousands of other car owners are doing—"Change to Shell." Fill up the tank with 400 "Extra Dry" Shell Gasoline—fill the crankcase with Shell Motor Oil—then let the quiet purr of the motor and the dial of the SPEEDometer speak for themselves.

Any yellow-red Shell Service Station or any Shell Dealer is ready to supply you with this new Shell Gasoline at the regular price—not one cent extra for the extra quality it contains or the extra service it will render.

Why 400 "Extra Dry" SHELL GASOLINE is Superior

The Improved SHELL Way Takes Only The GASOLINE from the CRUDE

The old way (437° End Point)—the one in general use—takes the gasoline from the crude with part of the heavier and less volatile elements.

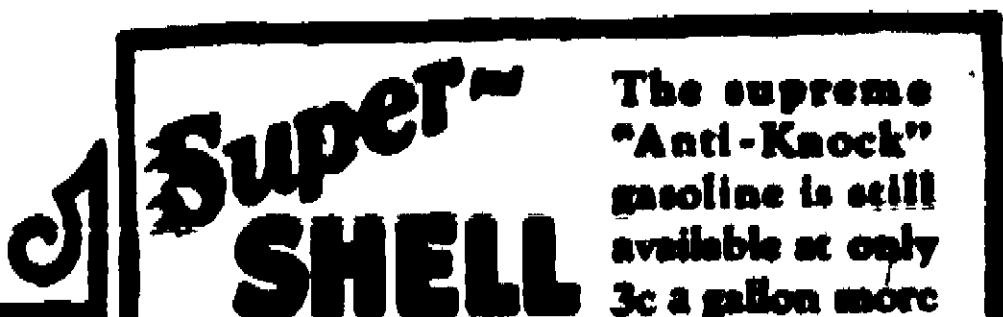

The SHELL way (400° End Point) takes only the cream of the crude—producing a higher gravity gasoline—extra dry, clean-burning and wonderfully powerful and effective.

The NEW Shell Gasoline, refined to "400 End Point" costs more to produce because less gasoline is obtained per gallon of crude—but the price to you remains the same.

Flood Control To Be Major Legislation In Next Congress

PLANS STUDIED TO HANDLE ALL EXCESS WATERS

Commerce Department Sees Development of Navigation, Reclamation and Power

Washington, April 29.—Flood control legislation and the adoption of a national waterways policy leaped to the forefront today among the major programs which will confront the next congress.

Following the last approval of a flood control program by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, the commerce department has made an exhaustive study of the possibilities of controlling the excess waters of the Mississippi and other important river basins. Secretary of Commerce Hoover is now making a first hand study of the Mississippi conditions.

A report on the Mississippi Valley situation by the commerce department declared that in this section "there lies the possibility of a development of fundamental importance—primarily navigation, but also enhancing many factors of flood control, reclamation and power."

The report estimated the cost of the combined projects at $125,000,000, under which much of the Mississippi low lands could be at least partially moved from the flood zone, and a transportation system of 6,000 miles serving 20 states created.

Will Ask Funds

Senator Broussard, Democrat of Louisiana, a member of the Senate agriculture committee, told International News Service today that congress will be asked to appropriate sufficient funds to forever remove the danger of devastating floods along the Mississippi and its dozen tributaries.

The program for the flood control of waters whose angry floods have swept seven states this spring, will include reforestation of watershed along the giant river, erection of reservoirs at strategic points, and an unbroken chain of safeguarding levees from north of St. Louis to the gulf.

The floods in the Mississippi Valley this spring, Broussard pointed out, have destroyed more than $200,000,000 in property so far with a toll of at least 200 human lives.

"If this money were spent in controlling the river, Broussard said, there would be no more flood. Instead that mighty river would be harnessed to the need of mankind and it would be servant instead of a master of the people living along its banks."

Spending $10,000,000

The federal government now spends $10,000,000 a year for building levees along the Mississippi, Broussard said. The sum is important, he added because "long stretches are left practically unguarded."

"A levee is only as strong as its weakest point," the Louisiana senator said. "Wherever the levee is standard, it is protection against the worst flood, but there are hundreds of miles along the river where the levee is not standard and almost makeshift. We ought to spend $25,000,000 or $50,000,000 to make the levee unbreakable by flooding downstream along the river as it is today. Then, wherever a river is built, it would be possible to develop water power and the sale of that power would pay for the building of levees and reforestation of the water beds."

The Mississippi presents a national problem. The waters of 30 states drain into the Mississippi Valley. Congress can afford to ignore the problem in view of the loss of life and property to those who have suffered this spring."

Two MEN ARE FINED ON INTOXICATION CHARGES

Fines of $10 and costs were assessed against two "plain drunks" by Judge Martin in municipal court this morning.

The two who were booked as Charles Watson, 59, Washington, Pa., and Elmer Lindsay, 52, Sandusky, were picked up by detectives in the Erie club at 1:15 this morning. Two cans of canned beer were their only possession.

They were committed to the county jail to serve out their fines.

FAIL TO SIGN SULLIVAN BILL BOOSTING TAX

Representative Dodd Wants Amendment on License Fee Cut Eliminated

Columbus, April 29.—Lieut. Gov. Earl D. Bloom and Speaker O. C. Gray, presiding officers of the Ohio Senate and House of Representatives, respectively, today are withholding their signature from the Sullivan bill, which provides for an increase in the state gasoline tax from two to three cents per gallon.

As a result, the bill will be held in custody of legislative officials, pending action, when the legislators convene here May 9, on a motion by Rep. Martin Dodd, Toledo, Republican floor leader in the house, that the house reconsider the vote by which it passed the Sullivan Dodd's motion was submitted during a "skeleton" session of the house here Thursday, attended by less than a dozen members, including the speaker and Dodd. A similar session was held in the senate. These sessions were for the purpose of permitting Bloom and Gray to sign bills passed during the closing hours of the session last week.

The bill signed will go to Governor

Want Amendment Out

The legislative technical "five minute" session was resumed at the close of the "skeleton" session.

The purpose of Dodd's motion, which is pending on the house calendar, awaiting further action on May 9, is to force the senate to join with the house in eliminating a senate amendment which reduces the state auto license tax fee on pleasure autos 50 per cent.

Supporters of Dodd's motion endorsed the proposal that, even though the senate refused to strike out the amendment, the house vote to eliminate it and then stand pat, thus effecting a deadlock which would kill the bill.

In such an event, the state gasoline tax would remain at two cents.

MORE THAN 2,000 AT CRYSTAL LAKE OPENING

Many Out-Of-Town Persons Attend First Dance of Season at Park

What is believed to be the largest crowd ever attending a dance in Marion County was present last night at the opening of Crystal Lake Park pavilion, the attendance totaling more than 2,000. Fred B. Scherff, manager of the park, reported today.

Included were many persons from various towns and cities where the dance had been advertised, Bucyrus, Shelby, Mansfield, Tiffin and Delaware being among the places represented, Scherff stated.

Musie for the dance program, which began at 8:30 o'clock and closed at midnight, was furnished by Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadians, an orchestra which has become widely known in radio broadcasting. The Lombardo orchestra was here only for the one night.

Sunday night Richards' Ramblers will open a two weeks' engagement at the pavilion and dancing will continue each night during the remainder of the season. Manager Scherff announced today that park place dancing will be in effect as a rule during the season, the only exceptions being on occasions when orchestras of unusual note are brought here for special one-night engagements.

COUNTY AUDITOR AGAIN ISSUES TAX WARNING

Emphasizes Importance of Filing Returns Before Next Monday for Exemption

Another warning that Marion County citizens must file their personal property tax returns on or before next Monday in order to obtain the $100 exemption allowed by statute was issued today at the office of County Auditor Earl E. Thomas.

There will be comparatively few taxpayers getting in after the time limit expires, the auditor predicted today, basing his statement on the unusually large number of returns now being filed. The auditor's force of clerks is putting in practically all of its time receiving return blanks from persons coming in from all parts of the county.

Tonight the auditor's office will be open from 7 until 9 o'clock for receiving returns and Saturday Thomas and his clerks will be on hand from 8 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock at night. The office will not close for either the lunch or supper hour.

"We are providing every possible accommodation so that no person will be in position to say that lack of time or opportunity made it impossible for him to file his return," the auditor said today.

Four ESCAPE UNINJURED WHEN FLOOR COLLAPSES

Findlay Bakery Formerly Owned by Marion Concern Badly Damaged

Four persons narrowly escaped serious injury at Findlay Tuesday when the second and third floors of the Sunburst Bakery formerly owned by the Marion Baking Co. of this city, collapsed under the weight of a carload of flour. The local company disposed of the bakery a short time ago but still holds a lease on the building.

J. R. Weekly, formerly of Upper Sandusky, proprietor of the bakery together with Harry Shank and Mrs. Forrest Shank escaped when they heard the timber crack. Mrs. Weekly was caught in the debris but was extricated in a few minutes without injury.

RALPH JOHNSON FACING CHARGES OF POSSESSION

Ralph Johnson, 50, was taken into custody at his home a mile west of Agosta, yesterday afternoon, and is now in the county jail awaiting hearing in Probate Court on a liquor law violation charge. Vane Ireland, deputy sheriff, who accompanied Deputy George W. Deal to the Johnson home to make the arrest, stated this morning that an affidavit would probably be filed some time today.

The sheriff's deputies report finding several empty mash barrels and a jug of corn liquor at the Johnson home. The barrels and liquor are being held as evidence.

U. S. Supreme Court Won't Act in Cawgo Negro Murder Case

Columbus, April 29.—Members of the Ohio Supreme Court here today were delaying determination of the date of execution for David Atkins, Cawgo negro, pending receipt of official announcement from the U. Attorneys of the supreme court here were of the opinion that this official notification from Washington will not arrive for nearly a week.

KIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Medical authorities state that nearly one-tenth of the cases of stomach ache, indigestion, sourness, burning, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed, and it becomes sour, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed
in such cases and may do real harm by laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist some saturated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful of powder or four tablets in water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sour-ness, gas or pain. Dissolved Magnesia in powder or tablet form—never solid or milky—is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for indigestion purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals
with no more fear of indigestion. Adv.

Call of Spring Stirs Blood of Marion County Fishermen

Evidence that the call of spring has stirred up the blood of Marion County sportsmen is found at the office of Common Clerk Harley E. Kouns, where numerous applications are now being received for fishing licenses. Since Jan. 1 the clerk's office has issued 148 licenses, most of which have gone out during the last few weeks following arrival of weather favorable to angling.

This is the second year for the new law requiring fishing licenses. It applies to all persons excepting those under 18 years of age or to owners of tenants fishing on their own premises.

The license fee is $1.10 for Ohio

residents and $2.25 for non-residents.

Rules relating to fishing in Ohio are printed on each license. They show that the open season for various species of fish are as follows:

Brook bass, inland fishing districts
June 16 to April 30; Lake Erie districts
July 15 to May 21; brook trout, specialized trout, Von Boehr or brown trout hadlocked salmon or California salmon April 15 to Sept. 15. All other species, no closed season.

The big limit is black bass 12;
rock bass or blue gills 25; yellow or strawberry bass or crappies 40. The minimum length limits are black bass, 11 inches; yellow or strawberry bass and crappies, six inches; rock bass and blue gills, five inches.

Harding Memorial Officials Aroused Over Chipping of Marble By Token Hunters

Souvenir Seekers Cause $100 Damage, Man in Charge of Construction Work Says; Serious Accident Averted When Workmen Find Slashed Rope

Officials of the Harding Memorial Association and those in charge of the marble construction at the memorial site, are considerably aroused over malicious breaking of marble which has occurred on four different occasions, and each time on the four-inch slabs which serve as the floor on the first plane of the memorial. Party of the damage, it is believed, is the work of souvenir hunters.

In each case some instrument such as a chisel had been forced into the quarter-inch crack between two blocks and struck with a hammer, breaking out pieces from each block. In each case slabs had been selected on which two rows of heavy blocks had been placed. This entailed, according to

Chris Preuninger, who is in charge of the work, the removal of five or six ton blocks before the damaged block could be removed and reset.

Observe Damage

On three occasions previous to last Thursday workmen coming to the memorial in the morning found pieces broken from the marble blocks and when on Friday morning the fourth visit of the miscreants was discovered, a watchman was placed at the memorial at night.

Mr. Preuninger estimated the loss at $100. It is not so much the loss that has been sustained up to the present time, but the irreparable damage that could be done after the memorial is farther along.

Mr. Preuninger said today, "He also told of a narrow escape from a serious accident which occurred several days ago when an inch rope, being used as a guy for a huge Derrick, was found held together by only a few strands, the rope having been cut with a sharp knife. Had the discovery not been made, the first attempt to raise a block of marble would have resulted in the Derrick falling against the marble already placed on the memorial and might have resulted in the serious injury, if not the death, of some of the workmen.

May Build Fence

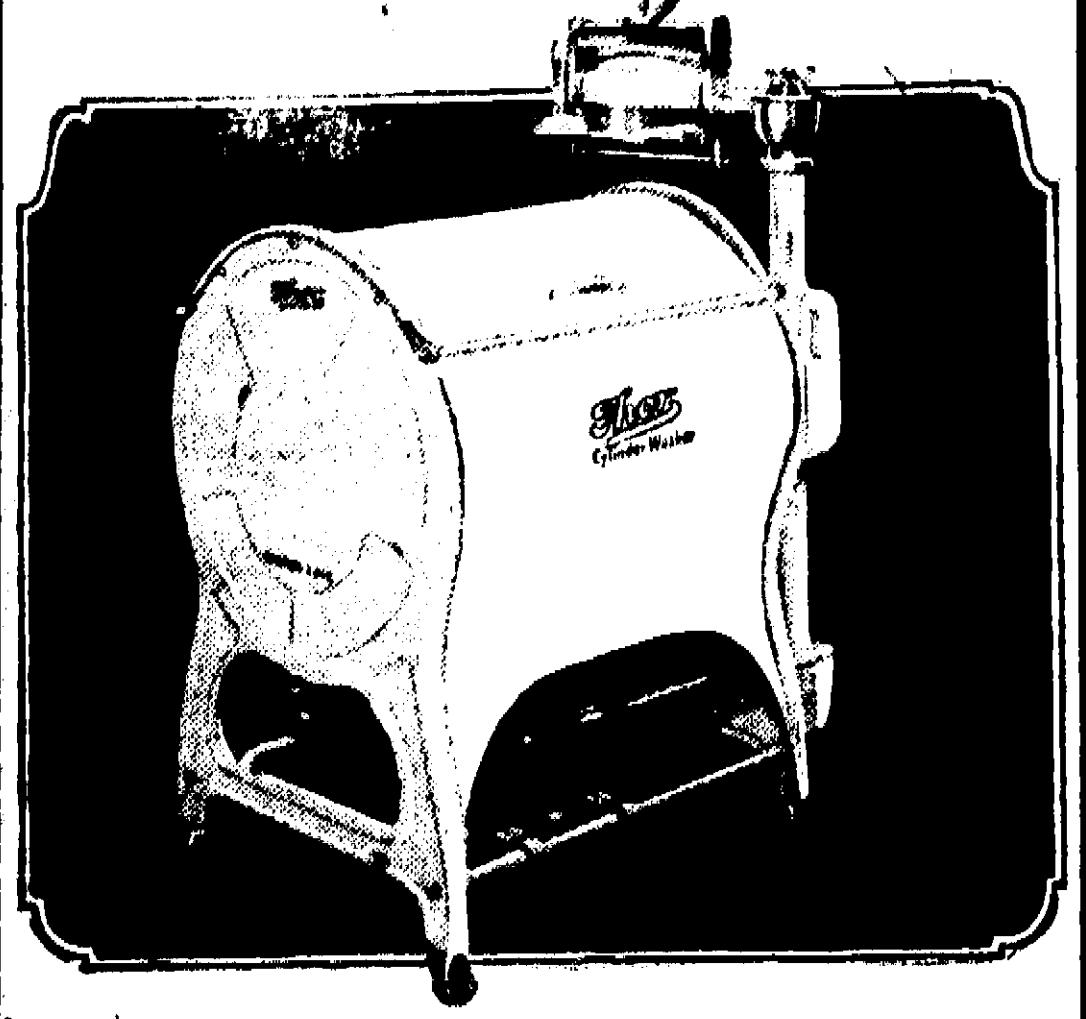

Mr. Preuninger said, "Every effort will be made to apprehend the miscreants and if caught in trouble will be spared to the fullest extent of the law. Should the trouble continue, he said, a fence will be built around the memorial and no visitors would be allowed to enter."

We are anxious, the builder said, to extend to visitors every consideration and are willing that they should inspect the memorial at any time, but should any damage be done, the amount of dollars damage could be done in 10 minutes time by anyone with a hammer and we cannot afford to take a chance."

Work at the memorial had been progressing in good shape until Thursday when operations were slowed up by the lack of stone. A car, however, is expected today.

MARION COUNTY ROAD WORK TO START AT ONCE

2,681.73 To Be Expended Highway Improvement
This Year

Plans for starting Marion 1927 road building and repair were made yesterday at the commissioners' office, when it was decided to proceed at once with the contract to cost $122,681.73.

Contracts agreed upon include a mile of three roads with a width of 30 feet and a surface of 10 feet, practically all of the hard surface 10 feet wide 1.5 miles.

Improvement projects will be ordered later, with the exception of those on those roads selected. The three roads to be repaired were selected and were 2,000 feet long. In this reason, members of the commissioners' committee said. These roads were selected for starting the work after the commissioners had enough investigating to know what was to be done.

Surface Treatment
The surface treatment of the roads in general provide for coating of either tar or asphalt, which will result in placing about $1.5 miles in first class condition in charge state. These will be surface treated over in order to preserve them from disintegration from traffic.

This work, which will be done in all parts of the county, is estimated to cost about $50,000.
A definite statement, together with plans, will be submitted to the commissioners by the county surveyor as soon as the base of the tar and asphalt surface material and the work of applying it be done under contract. Stone congs or gravel are then applied
this work will be done by the commissioner's supervisor.
The surface treatment as well as the construction of the three road, depend upon payment will be paid from the county's two mill road levy fund.
The present roadway to be replaced the new construction are almost completely worn out and in some places practically impossible during the winter season, county officials say.
They are to be built of water-bound asphalt, 14 feet in width.
The three projects are as follows:
Vineyard in Bowing Green ship, 3.4 miles, estimated to cost $10,000. Immediate construction of this road is regarded as essential as it is the chief outlet from the southwest portion of the city of Marion. The east portion of Hardin County and the north portion of Union County to the village of Union.

Jarsdell and Gibson in Grand Marion township, 2.15 miles from the Sawdust to the Buevres of the Grand Prairie, central section.
This section of road is stated completely worn out and has cost of tends from the Mt. Olive church to the Seneca river should be built at once because at the present time there is no improved road between the village of Green Camp and the Richwood and LaRue roads, county officials say.

Officials attending yesterday's con-

SCHOOL FIGHT IS THROWN IN NEW TURMOIL

Reigel Takes Hand in Bucyrus Controversy; Governor Donahue Interviewed

Bucyrus, April 20.—The controversy existing in Bucyrus relative to the reorganization of Superintendent Supt. Jesse E. Ward's list of the Bucyrus City Schools took on a new angle this week as the result of a letter sent to board members by Vernon S. Reigel, state director of education.

Reigel and chairman greeted the directors' letter, threatening to withdraw recognition of Bucyrus High School, if the school controversy is settled as the people wish. Supporters of the three men members of the board generally resented the state director's letter as being unimportant while supporters of the two women members of the board and Supt. Ward planned to stand in the threat to withdraw recognition.

Women Take Stand

The women point out that the withdrawal of state recognition will mean that every graduate of Bucyrus High School will have to take an entrance examination before entering college.

The men members feel that Reigel has exceeded his authority in the matter and threatened to take an action which he cannot find authority to do. They feel supported in this contention by the result of President Ben's conference with Governor Donahue at Columbus Wednesday.

Governor Donahue summoned Reigel to the conference and it was reported to have been very definitely established that the school board has the statutory right to hire whom it chooses as superintendent. Men in other of the board further point to section 7702 of the Ohio code which reads:

"The board of education of each city school district at a regular meeting between May 1 and August 31, shall appoint a suitable person to act as superintendent of the public schools of the district for a term not longer than five school years, beginning within four months of such appointment and ending on the 31st day of August."

They further point to section 7000 of the General Code which reads:

"Each city, village, or rural school board of education shall have the management and control of all the public schools."

Authority Unquestioned

The authority of the board in the selection of the superintendent is not questioned by the women members and their supporters but the authority of the director or a far as the control of the schools rating is concerned is denied by them. "Director Reigel knows what he is talking about and if he had that he would withdraw recognition, I think, that he will do it," one of the women declared. She added that she thought that the director of education who has been in office for many years is a better authority upon educational matters than Governor Donahue. It was stated by the other woman member of the board, she believed, that those opposed to Mr. Ward thought they could secure and from the governor they are due for a surprise. The women both declaimed any knowledge that the letter was to be written before its receipt by both Mrs. Goldsmith and President Ben. They further denied having any part in the inspiring of the many tests and examinations recently conducted in the schools by the state department of education.

Legal Expression

The only legal expression that could be found upon this phase of the controversy is in Section 7651 of the general code which provides that high schools of the state shall be classified and that the superintendent of public instruction shall formulate standards under which the high schools of the state shall be administered.

Section 7652 defines the requirements of a first grade high school as a school in which the courses offered cover a period of not less than four years, or not less than 32 weeks each, which not less than 16 courses are distributed.

The Ladies' Aid of the First Methodist Church served the elaborate four-course dinner and Polhmann Playing Parsons furnished music throughout the affair. Fred C. Miller, president of the organization, was in charge of the program and transacted the necessary business at the opening of the session.

Mrs. Helen Ryan Smith, secretary of the association, and fell dead. General services were held this afternoon for Rev. W. M. George, Methodist minister.

He died suddenly in his sleep at his home in Cleveland, in both of which instances he had been ill and was promoted for years in agricultural pursuits.

Surviving are the widow and two daughters, Mrs. Roy Boddie, widow of Mrs. Ernest Fowler, Mr. Alvin Marion, son of Ralphie, Cleveland, four sons, Mrs. Frank McGill, Marion, Mrs. P. A. Larson of Radgewater, Mrs. S. M. K. of Wellington and Mrs. F. G. Larson of Parma.

Reelect Directors

By acclamation the directors who have served for the past year were reelected and will in turn hold their meeting for the election of new manager.

For the program numbers, Mrs. Donald Townsend accompanied by Mrs. R. O. Morgan sang two solos, "Spring of the Year" and "My Lover Is a Fisherman." Another much enjoyed event was the musical skit presented by a group of Kiwanians under the direction of Charles Monroe. The personnel of the company included Dr. Edgar Couch, Rev. O. C. Kramer, George James, Harry Boddie and George Patterson.

Chairman Myers expects that no recommendation will be made to the chamber by the committee but that it will pursue a neutral position.

Authority Unquestioned

The authority of the board in the selection of the superintendent is not questioned by the women members and their supporters but the authority of the director or a far as the control of the schools rating is concerned is denied by them. They further denied having any part in the inspiring of the many tests and examinations recently conducted in the schools by the state department of education.

Other Developments

Other developments are going on in the controversy. It is expected that the report of the visiting committee of the chamber of commerce will be made at the chamber meeting next Tuesday, April 25, chairman of the committee declared today that he expects that the report will consist of the photostatic copy of the record of happenings at the meeting last week when the chamber committee attended the meeting of the school board made by the committee's stenographer, L. E. Bradstock.

MT. GILEAD TEAM LOSES LOUDONVILLE GAME

Champions of Ashland County Swamp Purple with 17-2 Score

Mr. Gilead High school baseball players were swamped 17 to 2 at Loudonville yesterday afternoon, by the champions of Ashland County, Logan, who turned into trouble by walking the first man up in three different innings. The winners were credited with 11 hits.

The local team matched every Loudonville hit with an error and they were given six free checks for first base. Local batters were unable to hit Gilead's fast ball and hit safely only five times. Nine Purple batters blooped in the seven innnings and Logan fanned eight Loudonville players in the six innnings. They made only two errors. The Purple only scores came in the sixth inning when Zollman took first on a bad tag from the third baseman, went to third on Rutherford's sacrifice. A single by Clegg scored Rutherford.

Thirty-Seven Awards Now Ready For Lucky Players Of Local Baseball Club

Jimmy Ruzzo Adds to His List of Givers; Player Making First Home Run Will Be Greatly Rewarded by Number of Merchants; Other Feats Also Mean Prizes

BY EDDIE SCHONELB
Sports Editor, The Star

TEN more Marion merchants have added their names to the list of donors of gifts to members of the Marion Athletics' baseball club for various feats on the opening day and in some cases all season.

Jimmy Ruzzo, one of the most ardent baseball fans in Marion, is largely responsible for the list. Jimmy has put in many hours during the last two weeks soliciting various merchants and working up interest in the game. His total list now is 37 of the leading merchants of Marion. Jimmy's done his duty. Now all the players have to do is perform in the correct manner and they will be amply rewarded for their efforts.

The first 27 to offer prizes for various acts on the diamond during the opening or at other times was named in these columns a few days ago. Here goes for the honorable mention of 10 more members of the Marion outfit, which, by the way, promises to be the best ever seen on a local diamond.

Turoff Hanquels

Turoff's restaurant announces that Manager Bacon, Umpire Mack, and Finance Ruzzo, together with the man making the first home run of the season, will be given a "table d'hoté four course dinner." It must be explained here that E. C. Macken, well-known in local sport circles and umpire for the Athletics last year, will again act in that capacity in the opening tilt.

Now what one can kindly, efficiently and without sentiment and one won't get hurt.

STAKE RACE ENTRIES CLOSE MONDAY

Lord David Burghley Is After High Honors In Penn Relays, Being Held Today

Five Scions of Cambridge University's Wealth and Distinction Will Take Issue with Best of American Colleges in Relay Carnival; Championships at Stake

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

PHILADELPHIA, April 20.—They say the sun never sets on England's possessions and it may be that today will furnish either denial or affirmation of the notion; for five scions of Cambridge University's wealth and distinction will take issue with the best in the American colleges at the Penn

Relay Carnival, and by nightfall tomorrow, one championship will be marked off.

Of others nearly as good, there will be a marked profession. The all-around championship always is of lasting appeal and today a lot of new men will be in there and most of the old ones will be gone.

The pennants favorite,

Lord David Burghley, the youngest son of the Earl of Dorset, Dick

Stratford of Dorset, and Ken Dolby,

of Detroit City College,

are counting on two.

Lord David Burghley, the only runner in the world who has a crest on his cigarette case, won the 400-meter hurdles two years ago in his first fling at the event and they naturally think that the second time will prove it.

That is one victory they are counting before it is hatched. The other is the Sun-setting over hurdles tomorrow and, in addition they are not betting any half crowns that Lord Dave won the 120-yard hurdles today.

Attacks Collegiate "Athletic Hypocrisy;" Advocates Professionalism

New York, April 29—Frankly admitting that his institution had "disgraced" in 1925 by having one of its football team who had violated the amateur code, President Holt, of Hollins College, member of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association, today intended to expose out and out professionalism in college athletics. His rival schools abandoned all athletic hypocrisy." President Holt's views were expressed in an article entitled, "An Appeal to College Presidents," in the current issue of "Review of Reviews."

After declaring that Hollins had found it necessary to clean house after the 1925 football season, he said in part:

"Although I have no personal knowledge of the matter, I am told by both students and coaches within and without Hollins that many of our sister institutions, not only in the South but throughout the country, are still in the same condition, athletically, that disgraced Hollins."

Advocates Professionalism.

"It is impossible to find enough colleges geographically proximate to play with under purely amateur conditions. I am ready to suggest that we abandon our pretense of amateurism and come out open and above board for professionalism. I would be perfectly willing to print in our catalogue just how much we pay our pitcher, our quarterback and high jumper."

President Holt then went on to declare that he saw "no moral or other distinction" between men who played for fun or for money and that he suspected the contempt which amateurs had for professionals is largely a "hangover" from those bad old days when any man demanded himself by accepting little more for his services.

Athletic Heresy.

"But I recognize that his is academic and athletic heresy. Accordingly, as far as Hollins is concerned, we will conform strictly to such amateur standards as laid down by the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association. But if Hollins finds it impossible to secure reasonably amateur competitors, then I submit there is no honorable alternative except to espouse professionalism."

The blame for athletic conditions, he charged, was to be laid at the door of college administrations. Referring to football as "the most popular game in the land," he pointed out that it was "the only thing in which a young man of 20 stands supreme," and that the student should not be blamed for wishing to achieve the fame in a few weeks that would take many years to achieve in the arts and sciences.

He then spoke of the "great merit" of football as the only thing "really well taught" in our colleges.

Rigid Standards.

"No such rigid standards are attempted in the class room," he added.

"The chief trouble with football in our colleges today is not so much in the way the game is taught or played as in the timidity and laxity of college authorities in enforcing the standards they set. College presidents and faculties today insist on rules to be made, which, if lived up to, would cure most of the evils inherent in the game, but then, to an alarming extent, they wail at, if they do not connive at, the non-enforcement of these rules."

George H. Hull, athletic director at the University of Illinois, today characterized as "ridiculous" the article by Mr. Holt, proposing advocacy of professionalism in collegiate sports.

Mr. Holt's statement that football is the only thing "really well taught" in our colleges is ridiculous as his intimation that 100 percent amateurism in college athletics is impossible," said Hull, who is the leading athletic director in the Big Ten conference. "The article is too ridiculous to merit further comment."

Stagg Admits Heresy.

Coach Stagg, however, dean of Western Conference football coaches, frankly admits that many of the evils pointed out by Mr. Holt exist within the Big Ten.

"Alumni and business men are too lenient," said Stagg. "That goes generally for the country. They are inclined to help out the boys. I think there is a need for college presidents and boards of trustees in a great many cases to step in. It is largely in their hands, anyway."

Gordon Locke, former All-American backfield star at Iowa and now football coach at Western Reserve University, comments as follows:

"It is my opinion that most of the agitation as to professionalism in intercollegiate athletics especially foot-

Dempsey To Meet Paolino In His Return To Ring On Or Before Night Of July 1

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, April 29—Jack Dempsey, late yesterday officially accepted Paulino Uzcudun as the co-entrant for his return to the ring at Yankee Stadium here on or about night of July 1. An exchange of terms between Tex Rickard and the champion resulted in the closing of the match, it being understood that Dempsey was won over from his aversion to Paolino as an opponent by the fact that Rickard promised Jack that he would receive not less than $300,000 for his end.

Dempsey originally maintained that he could gain nothing by beating Paolino but evidently he wasn't speaking the truth. The sum mentioned is the greatest ever guaranteed any fighter except a current heavyweight champion of the world.

Details Withheld

Details of the Dempsey-Paolino transaction were withheld at Madison Square Garden but were revealed to the writer by one of Dempsey's under-cover agents. The articles of agreement, when signed, will call for 15 rounds to an official decision and it is estimated that a capacity crowd of nearly 90,000 will be on hand for Dempsey's comeback.

Dempsey already is under contract with Rickard to meet an unnamed op-

BOWLING TOURNEY CLOSES SATURDAY

The Merry Widow bowling tourney at the Y. M. C. A. closed Saturday night.

No new high scores were recorded last night, although a number attempted to top the mark set by the various leaders in the singles, doubles and mixed doubles.

Paolino already is under contract with Rickard to meet an unnamed opponent this summer. Dempsey preferred.

Rickard's proposal, contained in a wire to Dempsey yesterday, that the ex-champion first meet Paolino, then if successful, take on the survivor of the Sharkey-McLoney fight with Gene Tunney at the end of the rainbow, was said today to have found instant favor with Jack. So much so, in fact, that the acceptance of terms was wired to Rickard immediately.

Dempsey In Condition

According to word brought east by Guy Wilson yesterday, Dempsey has worked himself into excellent condition at Wheeler Hot Springs, Cal., during the last three weeks and is convinced that he has regained his form of 1923. Wilson said the ex-champion weighed 199 pounds when he left the camp and probably would be ready to start out to top off his work within a few weeks. The trainer also passed on the information that Dempsey was spending more than 10 miles on the road daily.

"When Is Always?" daughter of a wealthy American tourist. After spending his last pounds on a luxurious honeymoon, the idealist and his wife make their home in a better flat, cut off financially from the American millionaire, who returns home disappointed in his daughter's choice of career.

Pay, the millionaire's daughter, is all love, patience and devotion and struggles to make her young husband happy despite his failure as a writer and only success as a publisher.

The new turn in the story comes when, feeling himself to be a failure since he cannot surround his wife with the luxury to which she had been accustomed, the young man leaves his wife to lead to the belief that he has committed suicide and disappears.

Meanwhile his books, written under an assumed name, suddenly begin to sell. When he is discovered by his wife, and, after undergoing the hardship and privations which lead to his loss at the front, and twice escaping serious injury, he comes to a realization of the value of life—blessings for his young wife and is overwhelmed with a desire to return and make her happy. He also learns of the success of his books and is reassured in the knowledge that she had lived upon the proceeds of his cowardly desertion.

Firm in the belief that the answer to "When Is Always?" is "Till death do us part," and that marriages are made in heaven and live all enduring, an Oxford graduate, dependent on the allowance of his father, a now too prosperous physician, cloeps with the Lovers of genuine western stories will find the flavor and atmosphere of the '90s when hostile Apaches and Navajos blocked the southern trail from Texas through New Mexico in the new novel, "Under the Sun" by Dale Coddington.

Coddington is himself a lover of the west having spent much of his time in the most uncultivated parts of that section of the U. S. Others of his novels are, "Not Afraid" and "Lorenzo the Magnificent."

"The Mad Whirl" the new novel just published through Doubleday, Page and Co. by the author, Harold McGrath, is a romance dealing with a spendthrift who discovered himself.

TEACHERS' WORRIES

A novel that provides rare amusement is "The Laughingest Lady" by Ellinor Cowen Stone, just published by Appleton. To a grade school in a village near the Mexican border comes Katherine Nevin, a new teacher, and her experiences with her class of small Mexican makes for a series of diverting episodes.

BROMFIELD NOVEL DUE OUT IN AUGUST

Is a good woman really "without price?" Louis Bromfield in his new novel, "A Good Woman," to be published by Stokes in August, says not. His book is the story of Emma Dawnes, a woman who is "always right," who believes in foreign missions, moral living, woman suffrage and other organizations which make for world betterment. But in her attempts to "do good" she tramples upon anything that stands in her way. Bromfield says of her, "America is overrun with such women and she ought to be recognized fairly easily."

Bromfield is the popular author of "Early Autumn," "Possession" and "The Green Bay Tree."

TWO NEW VOLUMES BY CHRISTOPHER MORLEY

TWO totally different little volumes, "The Arrow" and "Pleased To Meet You" both the work of Christopher Morley were published this month by Doubleday, Page & Co.

"The Arrow" is a fantasy with its theme the suggestion of the psychic and physiological effects of a sea voyage on a young masculine temperament, while "Pleased To Meet You" deals with the post-war republic of Illinois at the time of the inauguration of its first president, Herr Guadelupe, chosen by the Labor party because of his democratic taste for onion soup.

Not all of the books are new publications, some being new copies of old favorites.

STORY HOUR ON SATURDAY MORNING

There will be a story hour in the juvenile department of the Library at 10 o'clock Saturday morning with Mrs. L. O. Clevenger, art instructor, in charge, according to announcement made today by Miss Mary Coleman, Juvenile librarian.

The story hour is open to children between the ages of six and 12.

SHOW BOOKS DURING CONVENTION WEEK

The fine collection of illustrated children's books, the property of City Library, will be displayed in that department all next week, it was announced today. The display is being held at that time in order that clubwomen in attendance at the state convention of the Federation of Women's Clubs may have an opportunity of seeing them.

"BROTHER SAUL" RISES ABOVE "ELMER GANTRY"

DONN BYRNES new novel, "Brother Saul" has taken the place of "Elmer Gantry" by Sinclair Lewis as a leader among the best sellers, according to a survey of the most popular novels of last week. Among the interesting new novels attracting attention are Stewart Edward White's "Back of Beyond," published this month by Doubleday, Page and Co.

The story concerns a young American under the spell of the sinister charm of Africa.

Names are Names Even for Presidents; Cause Trouble

Machado in English and Cool, idge in Spanish Good Illustrations

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
WASHINGTON, April 29—President Machado of Cuba knows hardly any English. Consequently he didn't realize at first what liberties were being taken with his name when he was introduced several times during his recent visit in Washington, as President McAdoo.

In Spanish McAdoo is in man: ma, as in charon: da, as in dough, meaning boulder. Machado—with the accent on the second syllable.

THE Cuban chief magistrate heard himself referred to as President

McAdoo by a number of masters of ceremonies, without having the least idea who was being talked about.

Finally, to enable him to make his bow in the right place, the mixup had to be explained to him.

Thereupon he laughed a deep bass Spanish laugh and told how President Machado's name probably will be pronounced when he attends the Pan American Conference in Havana next year.

COUDJIDGE, in Spanish, works out approximately like this:

Co, as in corona; o again (a separate syllable), as in hoe, lead, as in feed; y, as in the well-known fever folk-haile, in autumn. Cough-lead hay—

Strictly speaking, it's worse than that, for some of the sounds won't render into English. For instance, the "d" in "dead" is a cross between a hiss and a hisp, and the "h" in "hay" has a guttural effect similar to "oh," in "Ach, himmlisch!"

THE subject of flood prevention—if there is any such thing—evidently is going to be violently debated when congress meets next December.

This season's Mississippi River disaster guarantees it.

Government experts quite generally take the view that no human power could have averted the latest calamity. It's equally clear that public opinion throughout the country has no inclination of accepting that verdict.

Whether or not anything can be done, the whole tone of popular comment is to the effect that something has got to be done.

THE fight promises to be a triangular affair between:

1. The experts who have engineered such protection as has been furnished hitherto, who say they've done the best they could with the money they've had and most of whom doubt the possibility of 100 per cent protection except at prohibitive expense.

2. Critics who deny that the money spent has been spent to the best advantage.

3. A large group, mostly of laymen, but including some reputable engineers, who contend that our whole system of flood control is wrong, that effective control, though initially it must be very expensive, can ultimately be made profitable, and that it ought to be undertaken immediately.

JUST at a guess, it looks to a bystander as if there probably would be a compromise on better protection for territory which ought to be flood-proof, at the sacrifice of a certain amount of less-floodable territory which can be even semi-protected only with great difficulty and at huge cost. "That is," explained an Army engineer, "if a levee overtopped at the river's edge and 10 inland miles may be flooded, but it will hold the water, and nine of those 10 miles are protected."

"It's all right to save dry land from floods, but it isn't safe to build dikes in what really are river beds, except at very low water."

WALTER L. MAIN CIRCUS HAS TWO GREAT HERDS OF FINELY TRAINED ELEPHANTS

MISS BOBBY CORNET
One of the Walter L. Main Elephant Trainers

When the Walter L. Main Circus comes to Marion on Friday, May 6 there will be seen one of the greatest collections of elephants ever brought here with a circus. Two great herds are carried with this mammoth circus organization and these include many of the most splendidly trained elephants in the world.

Besides doing the ordinary circus routine work generally allotted to the elephants, the Walter L. Main elephants have been trained to perform many distinctly novel and spectacular stunts. The two herds of elephants are managed by both men and women trainers of renown and those who can appreciate the antics of the huge and clumsy pachyderms have many highly entertaining treats in store for them when they visit the Walter L. Main circus.

The Walter L. Main circus this year far excels any previous year and among the various featured attractions are the forty funny and gay clowns, headed by Harry La Pearl, Fred Leslie, Chick Reed, Billy Sells, Lou Hershey, Harry Joy, George Wayman, and Ruth Dyer; the 30 aerialists, headed by Sylvester Brothers, champions of the acrobatics; Maxwell Trio, sensational triple bar gymnasts; Madam Julia Rebras, intrepid French acrobat who faces death twice daily in her loops on the loop on a bicycle; the 40 equestrians, headed by the noted Hollie family, and the 50 acrobats, headed by Koban and Sakata, Japanese acrobats who walk up a flight of steps on their head; Dr. Long Sisters, noted Belgian acrobatic team, the Maxwell trio, the Yoko trio, and others.

LONG DISTANCE CHAMP

Mayor Harry Williams

VERMILLION, O., April 29—Harry Williams, who has recently completed his twenty-fifth year as mayor of Vermillion has two claims to fame.

He not only is beloved among the deans of all the mayors of the United States, but in his quarter of a century as chief executive he has not only one quarrel with members of his town council.

Williams has lived 33 of his 60 years in Vermillion, a town of 2,000 population. For most of this time he has been in politics. He has served as village solicitor, coroner, township clerk and member of the school board.

Vermillion keeps few secrets from its mayor. Williams is friend and adviser to all. He knows the first names, joys and sorrows of virtually every family in town.

Williams has no intentions of retiring at the end of his present and thirteenth term. "I plan to keep right on being mayor as long as the people will elect me," he says.

Children need the whole grain for sound, normal growth

Child health specialists are emphasizing the importance of the whole grains more and more. They say that for children especially the highly-refined cereals are lacking in much that is needed.

That is one reason Quick Mother's Oats is such a valuable food for little children.

For the tender bran covering of the oat is left on, supplying just the roughage needed. With milk, it provides vitamins and minerals, too—now known to be essential for sound, normal growth.

Two kinds—the kind you have always known.

Quick (cooks in 2½ to 5 minutes). Both with coupons interchangeable with Aunt Jemima coupons, good for jewelry, clothing, and many other handsome and convenient articles.

We will gladly pack and mail to any address your gift to "Mother."

A Story of Boyhood Adventures

BY JUDD MORTIMER LEWIS

Now will be Saturday. The us to stop it, and she saw the mouse dry on the swing and I bet I, and gave one creach and two junks to stay home all day and was half ways out of the window when Banty poked his mouse up at the string and we skinned out.

It was warm again today and we was that beginning Monday I had to take the cows to the pasture every morning and bring me at night. There was not anything happened to school. Banty had a mouse and not a string tied to its tail, but he just let it out in school. We went to the basement where Masha's wife lives, at recess, and she was sitting by the table reading and trying to not notice us, but she is a kind of nervous when we are there. And Banty put his mouse on table and let it run around, and soon Masha's wife looked around to see what we were doing and tell me what became of the mouse, but Jubilee was looking innocent and a string was hanging out of the corner of his mouth. A golin can have a lot of fun with a string if he uses it right.

Lee was looking innocent and string was hanging out of the corner of his mouth.

Youness and Freddie and their folks came over and I was let set up late because it was Friday.
